Today: Mini-Workshops
Each year during the Core Couse, IPDET features specialized mini-workshops. These provide the opportunity for participants to connect with leaders in the field of evaluation, and delve into key areas of focus.

You signed up for your mini-workshops during registration. After lunch, please go to your classroom.

1. "Developing an Evaluation Lessons Learned System" Instructor: Sidney J. Edelmann, Team Lead, Communication & Outreach, IEG
2. "Facilitation Skills" Instructor: Jennifer Birch-Jones, Consultant, Facilitator & Trainer at Intersol Group
3. "Vision and Perspective: Unleashing Your Creativity" Instructor: Kathy Strauss, Freelance Consultant/Graphic Designer
4. "Peer Reviews: Who is Evaluating the Evaluators?" Instructor: Robert D. van den Berg, Director, Independent Evaluation Office, GEF
7. "Innovative Evaluation Methods" Instructor: Patricia Rogers, Professor in Public Sector Evaluation, RMIT University, and Project Director, BetterEvaluation

For those who have yet to sign up for a mini-workshop, please see Emily at the break.

Reminder: Small Group Work
Please note that there will be no scheduled small group time today. Should you wish, feel free to meet with your group over the weekend.

Montreal Trip
A reminder to meet at 9:45 am in front of Residence Commons for the Montreal Trip tomorrow, June 14. Please dress for the weather: it’s supposed to be cool and overcast with scattered showers.

Friday the 13th is doubly rare this year: today is the only one in 2014 and it’s a full moon.

Carleton Connection—Weekend Meals
As always, breakfast in the Residence Commons’ Fresh Food Company (FFC) is complimentary. Simply present your card to the clerk for entry. For lunch and dinner on weekends, you may choose to eat at the FFC, but the cost will be deducted from your swipe card.
